DETAILED ACTION

Oath/Declaration

1. In view of the papers filed on August 14, 2001, it has been found that this nonprovisional application, as filed, through error and without deceptive intent, improperly set forth the inventorship, and accordingly, this application has been corrected in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(a and/or c). The inventorship of this application has been changed by adding Gerhard Zink.

The application will be forwarded to the Office of Initial Patent Examination (OIPE) for issuance of a corrected filing receipt, and correction of the file jacket and PTO PALM data to reflect the inventorship as corrected.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The listing of references in the specification is not a proper information disclosure statement. 37 CFR 1.98(b) requires a list of all patents, publications, or other information submitted for consideration by the Office, and MPEP § 609 A(1) states, "the list may not be incorporated into the specification but must be submitted in a separate paper." Therefore, unless the references have been cited by the examiner on form PTO-892, they have not been considered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

4. Claims 17-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is unclear to the Examiner, what the applicants mean by a function housing. It is also unclear to what subject matter are referring to as support shoulders, is it the support shoulder of the motor housing, or the decoupling device?

5. A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claim 17 recites the broad recitation actuator, and the claim also recites in particular an electric motor, which is the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

6. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform with current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors. Examples in claims 19 and 24.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

Art Unit: 2834

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 17-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent 2881995 to Neher (hereinafter Neher).

Neher discloses a decoupling device (Figures 1-6) for an electric motor (2), with a one-pad or multiple part decoupling housing (15, 16, 18, 20), which is connected to a housing (3) and at least partially encompasses the motor (2), and with decoupling elements (11, 12) comprised of an elastic material (Column 2, line 22), wherein each decoupling element rests against support shoulders (15, 16, 18, 20, 26), a securing element (6) disposed between one set of decoupling elements and another set of decoupling elements (Shown in figure 1), said electric motor (2) engaging said securing element (6).

With regards to claims 18 and 19, Neher discloses at least two support shoulders (9, 26, 16), this shoulders being part of the decoupling housing and securing element.

With regards to claim 20, the decoupling elements are disposed on pairs as shown in figures 3, 4 and 6.

With regards to claims 21, 23 and 34-36, the securing element 6 has a radial projection 9 shown in figure 4, a slot and a recess in the vicinity of the decoupling elements.

With regards to claim 22, the decoupling elements are connected to each other by an intermediary piece 13, shown in figure 6.

With regards to claims 24-26 and 37-38, the recesses in arc-shaped forms are shown in figures 3 and 4.

The limitations in claims 27-31 are shown in figures 1, 4 and 6.

Art Unit: 2834

With regards to claim 32, the decoupling elements are disposed above one another extending parallel to the longitudinal axis.

With regards to claim 33, the decoupling elements are disposed in pairs as shown in figure 4.
